Memories of Echo
Stir within me now
As I lie alone
My Heart drifting back to summer
That's where my dreams do rest

I remember mountains
And the pine trees tall
How I loved them all
Standing there as shields and
Guarding us as we all are blessed

Time lies heavy
Winter Slow
But I'll return to my Echo

God made camp a heaven
With it's peaceful skies it's a paradise
I love Echo I give you my heart forever and ever
To you, you, you
